Student Achievement

Florida Memorial University expects all of its graduates to function in a highly competitive, technological and global society. To this end, it evaluates student performance through measuring

- Freshman retention
- Student progression through a prescribed program in a defined time-line
- Course completion
- Student performance on state licensure examinations.

Current rates are presented below.

¹ Freshman Retention Rate is defined by the National Center for Educational Statistics as the “percentage of first-time bachelors (or equivalent) degree-seeking undergraduates from the previous fall who are again enrolled in the current fall.” Data source: IPEDS report

² Florida Memorial University defines Course Completion Rate as the percentage of students who earn a grade of C or higher in a course. Data source: Office of Institutional Research/Power Campus Report

³ Data source: Florida Department of Education. Note: Only students who pass the examination are eligible for graduation.

⁴ Graduation Rate is defined as the percentage of students “entering the institution as full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students in a particular year (cohort)… completing their program within 150 percent of normal time to completion.” In the case of regular four-year baccalaureate programs, this translates to six years.
